Three groups of teaching methods are used:

1. verbal - descriptive disclosure of educational material, explanation of the essence of the relevant phenomenon, concept, process, instruction on the features of the application of individual norms, checking the level of independent processing of educational material, etc.;

8. Control methods

Control methods are methods of diagnostic activity that allow for feedback in the learning process in order to obtain data on the success of learning and the effectiveness of the learning process. Control measures determine the compliance of the level of knowledge, skills and abilities acquired by students with the requirements of regulatory documents on higher education. Incoming control is used to determine the level of knowledge of students in disciplines that are basic for studying this one. It is carried out at the beginning of studying the discipline by means of an oral survey or express control (testing).

Current control is carried out at each seminar classroom session in the form of oral questioning, student speeches, and writing test papers. Current control is carried out in the form of a written test paper to assess the knowledge and skills acquired during the study of the topics of the relevant section. Written test paper may include detailed answers to questions and answers to tests.

At the end of the course, a written test is taken. The written test may include detailed answers to questions and answers to tests.

A student is allowed to take the semester final test if he/she scores at least 10 points. The maximum number of points that a student can score when taking the final test in an academic discipline is 40. The maximum number of points that a student can score when studying an academic discipline is 100.
