

Abstract of the discipline

“Topical issues of constitutional law”

1 course, 1 semester

Level of higher education – Master

Specialty 293 International law

Number of credits - 4

Total hours – 120

The discipline “Topical Issues of Constitutional Law” program is compiled by the educational and professional program of a master's degree in specialty 293, International Law.

Course objective: training of specialists who have a wide range of knowledge on problematic aspects of constitutional and legal regulation of social relations, possess the practical skills necessary in their professional activities to solve difficult situations in the field of constitutional law; able to independently and competently navigate the modern issues of constitutional and legal relations, make balanced, constitutionally sound decisions within their professional competence.

Description of the discipline: Topical issues of ensuring constitutional rights and freedoms of man and citizen in Ukraine. Topical issues of democracy in Ukraine. Topical issues of optimizing the form of government in Ukraine. Topical issues of territorial organization of power in Ukraine. Topical issues of forming the constitutional foundations of civil society in Ukraine. Topical issues of forming the constitutional foundations of national security of Ukraine. Topical issues of ensuring constitutional rights and freedoms of man and citizen in Ukraine. Topical issues of democracy in Ukraine. Topical issues of optimization of the form of government in Ukraine. Topical issues of territorial organization of power in Ukraine. Topical issues of forming the constitutional foundations of civil society in Ukraine. Topical issues of forming the constitutional foundations of national security of Ukraine.

Form of final control: exam