2. Content and organization of internship

Students undergo training in accordance with the curriculum of the specialty 293 "International Law" of educational and professional programs – bachelor's, concluded contracts and the Regulations on conducting internships for students of higher educational institutions of Ukraine, approved by the order of the Ministry of Education of Ukraine dated 08.04.1993 No. 93.

It is expedient to start internship by learning the main provisions of the documents governing practice at V.N. Karazin Kharkiv National University. Also, students should familiarize themselves with the regulatory and legal acts and documentation regulating the activities of the relevant practice bases.

The general organization of students' internship is carried out by the head of internship of the Career Development Center of V.N. Kharkiv National University.

Before starting the internship, students must undergo an instruction on labor protection in the industry, familiarize themselves with the rules of the internal labor regulations of the internship base, and the procedure for obtaining documentation and materials.

Students undergoing internship at an enterprise, institution, or organization are subject to labor legislation and the Rules of Internal Labor Procedures of the internship base.

The order of the Vice-Rector for Scientific and Pedagogical Work of the University on conducting student internships determines:

- type, terms and place of practice;
- a list of students sent to practice;
- educational and methodical head of practice, head of practice from the faculty and head of practice from the department (group leader);
- deadlines and procedure for evaluating practice;
- deadlines for reporting on practice results.

Experienced scientific and pedagogical workers are involved in the management of the practice.

The responsibility for drawing up an order on practice rests with the practice supervisor from the faculty and practice supervisors from the departments (group leaders).

The deadline for issuing an order on practice is no later than 5 working days before the start of practice.

The head of the Department of International and European Law of the Faculty of Law carries out direct educational and methodological guidance and the implementation of practice programs, who:

- participates in conducting constituent meetings of students on practice issues and final conferences based on the results of practice;
- carries out educational and methodical management of practice;
- listens to reports on practice and analyzes the implementation of the practice program at department meetings.

The head of practice from the faculty is appointed by order of the vice-rector for scientific and pedagogical work from among highly qualified scientific and pedagogical workers who have at least three years of work experience.

Head of practice from the faculty:

- together with practice leaders from the department (group leaders) develops drafts of practice orders and is responsible for their execution, distributes students according to practice bases, organizes student meetings on practice issues before it begins (establishment conference) and after its completion (final conference));
- informs students about the practice reporting procedure, assessment criteria and reporting forms;
- submits to the Career Development Center reports on practice with proposals for improving its organization.

The head of practice from the department (group head of practice) is appointed by order of the Vice-Rector for Scientific and Pedagogical Work to directly supervise students' practice.

Head of practice from the department (group head of practice):

- before the beginning of practice, he conducts occupational health and safety briefings with students who have been sent to practice, prepares relevant documents;
- certifies the compliance of practice bases with the criteria for its implementation (by drawing up a protocol);
- jointly with the head of practice from the faculty develops draft orders about practice;
- participates in the distribution of students by places of practice;

- conducts mandatory consultations regarding the processing and use of the collected material for the practice report;
- informs students about the procedure for submitting practice reports;
- accepts the defense of students' reports on practice as a member of the commission, on the basis of which it evaluates the results of students' practice;
- submits students' reports on practice to the department.

Duties of direct supervisors appointed by practice bases are specified in separate sections of practice contracts.

The head of the practice from the practice base, who carries out the general management of the practice, bears personal responsibility for conducting the practice.

Duties of the head of practice from the practice base include:

- distribution of students by workplace according to the internship schedule;
- instruction on labor protection, fire safety at the enterprise and at the workplace during the performance of specific types of work;
- introducing students to the organization of work at a specific workplace;
- ensuring implementation of internship schedules by structural units of the enterprise;
- assessment of the quality of work, drawing up characteristics of students with a reflection on their implementation of the practice program, the quality of professional knowledge and skills.

Students of the faculty, undergoing practice, are obliged to:

- before the start of practice, undergo an instruction on labor protection;
- before the beginning of practice, receive from the head of practice from the department (group leader) referrals, methodical materials (methodical instructions, program, diary, etc.) and consultations on the preparation of all necessary documents;
- arrive at the practice base on time;
- to fully perform all the tasks stipulated by the work program of the practice and the instructions of its managers;
- comply with the rules of labor protection, safety technology, life safety, industrial sanitation and internal regulations of the practice base;
- to be responsible for the work done;
- to complete the practice program in a timely manner and submit a full report to the practice supervisor from the department (group practice supervisor).

3. Requirements for bases of internship

The internship of students of the Faculty of Law is carried out at practice bases in accordance with the contracts concluded by the university, as well as at the graduating departments of the Faculty of Law of Kharkiv National University named after V.N. Karazina.

Bases that are engaged for the practice of students must meet the following requirements:

- availability of structures corresponding to the specialty 293 "International Law", according to which specialists are trained at the Faculty of Law;
- provision of qualified management of students' practice;
- providing students with workplaces that meet the requirements of labor protection for the time of practice;
- providing students with the right to use the library, laboratories, technical and other documentation necessary for the implementation of the practical work program;
- providing the opportunity to be present during the events of the relevant practice bases.

The compliance of the bases with the criteria for practice is certified by the inspection protocol, which is conducted by the practice manager from the department (group practice manager) and agreed with the practice manager from the faculty and the head of the relevant department. Inspection protocols are kept together with the internship contract at the head of the industrial internship of the Educational Center for Practical Training and Employment of the Education Quality Office for 5 years [protocol form – Appendix 6].

Students can independently, in agreement with the head of practice from the department (group head of practice), select a base of practice for themselves and offer it for use.

The Department of International and European Law of the Faculty of Law is responsible for the work of practice bases.

4. Individual tasks for internship

Internship is possible in two forms – full time and distance learning. Individual assignments are not issued when the educational practice is carried out in full-time form.

When conducting educational practice in distance form, students receive individual tasks at the appropriate department. The content and scope of the tasks are determined jointly by the training and methodical and group practice managers.

5. Requirements for the report on internship

After completing the internship, students submit written reports (10-12 pages according to Appendix No. 2), which reflect the content of all the work they did during the internship, how the program was implemented, conclusions about the extent to which the internship helped to consolidate and deepen theoretical knowledge .

The report on face-to-face practice contains:

- the name of the practical institution or organization and its brief description;
- the results of the implemented practice program (what was specifically done; what was studied; summarized; practically worked out);
- conclusions regarding the positive aspects of the organization and practice;
- comments on difficulties and shortcomings that existed during the internship period, lack of knowledge acquired during training;
- proposals for improving the educational process and improving the organization of practice in practical institutions or organizations.

The remote internship report contains:

- the content of the individual task received by the student to perform during the educational practice;
- a detailed description of the methods and ways of performing an individual task by the student;
- the results of the completed internship program (a detailed description of the results obtained by the student during the educational internship);
- conclusions regarding the positive aspects of the organization and distance practice;
- comments on complications and shortcomings that arose during the educational practice;
- suggestions for improving the educational process and improving the organization of remote practice.

The report must be signed by the intern, the immediate head of practice from the practice base and the head of the practice base (in the case of remote practice, the report is signed by the group head of practice).

In addition to the report, the student must submit the following documents:

For full time internship

1. Characteristics from the practice base (provided separately from other materials).
2. A diary containing a calendar schedule of practice and work records.
3. 10-15 different legal documents with which he worked during practice and which are dated at the time of passing the relevant type of practice .

For distance internship

1. Characteristics from the group leader (provided separately from other materials).
2. A diary containing a calendar schedule of practice and work records.
3. Appendices in the amount corresponding to the content and scope of the individual task.

The materials must be sewn into a cardboard folder and contain an appropriate description of the materials (in some cases, attachments can be submitted in electronic form).

The report, together with other documents provided for in the practice work program (practice diary, characteristics, etc.), is submitted for review to the practice supervisor from the department (group practice supervisor). After revision and final approval with the head of practice from the department (group head of practice), the report in printed form is submitted for defense.

The report should contain information about the student's performance of all sections of the practice program, conclusions and proposals, a list of used literature, etc. The report is drawn up according to the requirements established by the work program of practice and methodical recommendations of the relevant department.

The report is defended by the student in the committee appointed by the head of the department. The commission may include: the head of practice from the faculty, the head of practice from the department (group leader), the head of practice from the practice base (if possible) and others.

6. Summary of internship

The commission evaluates the results of students' practice according to a two-level rating scale within the terms established by the relevant order on conducting practice.

Evaluation of practice results takes place in accordance with the principles and criteria provided by the work program of practice.

The results of practice are discussed at student meetings (final conference), the meeting of the relevant department, and the general results of practice are considered at meetings of the academic council of the faculty (at least once during the academic year - usually twice a year).

Based on the results of the practice, the practice manager from the faculty submits a report to the head of the production practice of the Career Development Center within the time limit established by the order of the Vice-Rector for Scientific and Pedagogical Work.

7. Criteria for evaluating the results of internship

Students who received a negative rating from the practice base, a negative feedback from the practice manager from the practice base are recognized as having failed to complete the practice program and are not allowed to defend the practice materials until the specified deficiencies are eliminated. Re-protection of practice materials takes place in accordance with the Regulations on the Organization of the Educational Process at Kharkiv National University named after V.N. Kar azine.

The grade "credited" is given to students who have fully completed the practice program, prepared the materials in accordance with the established requirements and provided a positive description of the practice base.

The grade "failed" is issued to students in case of failure to submit a report, diary or description from the practice base.

A student who has not completed the internship program will be expelled from the University.

8. Control methods and scoring scheme

The internship of students takes place under the constant supervision of the responsible persons of the University, the Faculty of Law and practice bases.

Head of production practice at the Career Development Center of V.N. Karazin Kharkiv National University:
